Israel got $500,000,000. We also paid for their wall while their lobbyists are here in America telling us that we are "racist" for wanting to build our own wall. They also push for gun control and anti-gun laws in America while we pay to arm all Israeli's in the West Bank. Then there's the Lavon Affair, U.S.S. Liberty, and the Dancing Israeli's on 9/11. We give them billions a year and for what?? Just to have them repeatedly stab us in the back.

This may be a dumb question, but is there a hard requirement that Congress must be there in person on the 6th? Seems like they could easily cuck out and say "due to Covid and white supremacists building gallows, we're doing this over Zoom from our comfortable, well-guarded DC residences. We must keep our representatives safe from these frog-worshipping extremists who are trying to stage a pathetic coup."

I hope I'm wrong, and that there's an "in person" requirement of some sort. But if there a chance they may not have to physically be there, we should anticipate and plan for such cuckery. A majority of them have spent decades insulating themselves from any form of accountability, and I wouldn't put it past them to chicken out like this.

The 116th Congress changed their rules to allow for some proxy voting due to the flu, but did not allow Zoom. I don't see the 117th allowing that.

This needs to happen.

It would be the ultimate freedom of expression.

Be sure not to include any names (of congressmen, etc.) or physical representations in their likeness. As long as there is no specificity, there is no legal grounds for a "threat against a public official."

Just build the platform, and display the nooses.

This should absolutely 100% be done. A pre-civilized action to counter our society's therapeutic mentality.

Surely, there are carpenters among our ranks? I could help build it but we'll need to source materials of course in DC which will be the logistical nightmare part.

Carpenter here, there will be thousands of patriots who can build this, gallows are pretty easy. I have a van that can bring lumber in, but we need a team of patriots to carry lumber/tools through the roadblocks which is the hard part.

25-50 nooses on light poles would be a stronger message, more widely spread, quicker to put in place, and possible to do anonymously with little physical evidence to lead back to you, in theory.

A hand built gallows leaves a ton of forensic evidence for anyone who has the skills to find out who did it in order to hold them accountable after the fact.

Nooses, you just need a boy scout and a hank of rope.

That would be a pretty damn strong political message that gets sent faster and father than a single installation ever will, if you ask me.

However, the public might be mislead into taking the nooses on light poles with a racial connotation as well. I can certainly see the legacy media using that as a coping strategy.

Hell they only have two plays; we're either evil or dumb.

Actually I guess it is three as sometimes they say we are evil AND dumb.

On the other hand, maybe the time for worrying about optics has passed and we are now into the logistics phase.

If that is the case, please disregard any warnings above as my concerns are no longer relevant.

So you're saying somebody should be hanged early in the morning as a message that the gallows are not just for show?

The reason it wouldn't work is because for too long we have stayed silent and failed to remind them who is in charge. Time to rectify that.

I don't agree. There is a large difference between blather on forums and a million normal people building this on the Mall. This will scare the piss out of a lot of politicians.

Will it be enough? Probably not. But it sends a strong message - and will force the MSM to cover the event.

Fuck your mEsSaGe. We've been "sending messages" for years now and it hasn't swayed these filthy commies even a little bit. They see our messages and laugh while they sell us out for trillions of our own dollars.

They don't listen. They don't understand our language. In fact, one might say there is only one language they do understand, and it isn't a spoken one.

I like the idea of a guillotine. Many leaders in history come to mind (of course Louis XVI and Mary Antoinette) that have been beheaded by their people for living in decadence while doing nothing to serve their own citizens. It's a strong message.
